GUT HEALING & AUTOIMMUNE RECOVERY

You downloaded the journal. Now let's fill it in right.

A journal only works if you know what to write. This is where we make sure yours does.

THE PART NOBODY TELLS YOU ABOUT HEALING

Getting the journal was step one. But most people who download a tracker never open it past day three.

Not because they're lazy. Because nobody showed them what to track, how to read their own data, or when a pattern is actually a pattern versus a bad day.

I know, because that was me too — for the first few weeks, my own journal was just guesses on a page.

WHAT CHANGED EVERYTHING

I stopped guessing when I started asking better questions. Not "what did I eat," but "what did my body actually do with it, and when." That shift — from tracking food to tracking cause and effect — is what turned my journaling from guesswork into real progress.

WHAT HAPPENS ON THE CALL

This isn't a sales pitch disguised as a call. It's 20 minutes where I:

01 Look at your specific situation
Your diagnosis, your current symptoms, what you've already tried.

02 Show you how to fill in the journal
Which prompts matter most for your case, and which ones you can skip.

03 Tell you honestly
Whether working together further makes sense, or whether the journal alone is enough for now.

No pitch at the end unless it's genuinely useful to you. If it's not a fit, I'll tell you that too.

IS THIS FOR YOU?

This call makes sense if

- Tired of advice written for someone else's body
- Your journal is more blank pages than filled ones
- You'd rather know in 20 minutes than guess for another 6 months

This probably isn't for you if

- You want a diagnosis or treatment plan — that's your doctor's seat, not mine
- You want a quick fix with zero tracking involved — this isn't that

Placeholder — swap for a real client quote

"I'd had my diagnosis for two years and still felt lost every time I ate. The call helped me see three patterns in one week that I'd missed for months."

One call. No pitch required.

You already took the hard first step by downloading the journal. This call just makes sure it actually works for you.
